SHE AND HER MACHINES.

There was a young woman of sweet seventeen, whose strength failed her quite at the sewing machine. Her feet they would ache and her brow it would throb. When she parted her lips half a sigh, half a sob.

But who, for a century run went she. A difference quite unexpected you'd see. No aches and no throbs could this fair maiden feel,

And all that was tried was her light, flying wheel.

Injuries resulting from his fall from a buggy in Marshall county a few days ago have compelled General Buckner to cancel three appointments for speeches in Western Kentucky.

St. Patrick's Church was crowded Sunday afternoon to witness the sacrament of confirmation to a class of 130 persons by Rt. Rev. Bishop C. P. Maes of Covington, assisted by the Rector, Rev. Father Ennis, and Rev. Father Deimer.

The sponsors were M. J. McCarthy and Mrs. Anna Breen.

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going on a trip, please drop us a note.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM!

Driftwood Gathered and Split for Ledger Patrons.

The H. K. Bedford has been compelled to go to the bank.

The J. C. Hopkins is the only boat leaving Cincinnati now—from that city to Chiago.

More than forty steamboats have been lost by sinking, fire and explosions whose names began with the letter "M."

So far as at present decided the following is a list of the boats and their trades for the coming season out of Cincinnati; Pittsburgh—Virginia, Hudson and Keystone State. Pomeroy—Telegraph and W. F. Nisbet's Maysville—Courier. Madison—Sherley, City of Vevay and B. S. Rhea. Louisville—City of Louisville, Boston and Scotia, Memphis—Bonaqua, Sunshine and Congo. New Orleans—State of Kansas, New South, John K. Speed and Buckeye State.

Commercial Gazette.—The work on the boats at the Marine Ways goes steadily on, and advantage is being taken of the suspension of navigation to get them in perfect repair. Practically a new hull is being built under the Boston, and with the work on her cabin she will be nearly a new boat when she enters the Louisville trade in January. The State of Kansas is in better condition now than any time since she was launched. She will be the first boat leaving for New Orleans. The New South has been treated to a thorough painting, and is nearly ready for business. Captain Bob Agnew has reason to feel proud of the Hudson, as she is the most handsome boat in the fleet. The City of Louisville is being carefully looked after, and is in perfect condition. The new Virginia is rapidly nearing completion, and will be ready to launch when the other boats are off the ways."

St. Patrick's Church was crowded Sunday afternoon to witness the sacrament of confirmation to a class of 130 persons by Rt. Rev. Bishop C. P. Maes of Covington, assisted by the Rector, Rev. Father Ennis, and Rev. Father Deimer. The sponsors were M. J. McCarthy and Mrs. Anna Breen.

REGISTER TODAY AT COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE.

Regular meeting of DeKalb Lodge, I. O. F., tonight.

Don't fail to see the Trimmed Millinery at Mrs. L. V. Davis's.

Mr. A. N. Huff has gotten through with his contract at Minerva.

Governor Brown has decided that at the expiration of his term of office he will locate in Louisville where he will engage in the practice of law.

"Cap," the handsome and intelligent pet dog of Miss Louise Ort, stolen two weeks ago, was yesterday returned to its owner. It was found in possession of a band of gypsies on Cabin Creek by Mr. William Dixon, the McKenzie bus driver, and Mr. John Walsh of this city.

Dr. James B. Foster, brother of Mrs. James Barbour of this city, died at Beaver Dam, Ky., Friday, October 25th, in his 70th year. A volunteer in the War with Mexico and a consistent Christian for fifty years, he always had many friends. His widow and two sisters are left to mourn.

Let the pessimist not say all the honest people are dead, thanks to the one that is left who found a package of paper wrapped on the desk at the Postoffice and returned them to the office to be called for. Not much value, but prompted by that Golden Rule, "Do unto others," etc., which, if carried out, would make earth a heaven.

Six O'clock Cutting.
Troy Lane and William Setters met in a saloon about 6 o'clock last evening, the former somewhere under the influence of liquor and in a quarreling mood. He tried several times to force a fight with Setters, but the latter warded him off. Finally, however, Setters drew a knife and went at Lane, cutting him slightly but not seriously in several places.

Mrs. L. V. Davis will exhibit the balance of the week a handsome line of Trimmed Millinery.

Any one desiring the finest Potatoes on the market for 40c per bushel in ten bushel lots or more leave orders with John Wheeler, Market street.

Wyandotte Tribe will meet in their Wigwam tomorrow (Wednesday) night at 7 o'clock; work will be conferred. A full attendance is desired.

SUPPLEMENTAL REGISTRATION.

Number and Complexion of Those Who Were Booked Yesterday.

Yesterday was the first day for those who'd been out of the city or who were sick on the regular Registration Day in October to appear before the County Clerk and register.

Below is the number recorded, with their political affiliation:

	Rep.	Dem.	Not Green.
First Ward.....	2	3	3
Second Ward.....	3	4	2
Third Ward.....	2	5	0
Fourth Ward.....	4	5	1
Fifth Ward.....	7	2	2
Sixth Ward.....	6	3	2
Totals.....	24	25	17

At the regular registration last month 1,459 registered, as against a total of 1,467 the year before, making the aggregate 17 short of last year; and of these 595 were Republicans, 536 Democrats, and 988 gave no party affiliation.

Add those of yesterday, and we have so far 619 Republicans, 561 Democrats, and 306 of no party, the increase being 18 over last year's full registration, with two days to go on.

Born, Sunday night, to the wife of Mr. E. W. Fitzgerald of Covington, a fine baby girl.

An Old Relic.
Mr. Joseph Crawford Favors The Ledger With a Novel One.

Mr. Joseph Crawford sent to this office yesterday a copy of The Daily Reporter, printed on the Fairgrounds at Lee's Woods.

It bears date Tuesday evening, October 13th, 1857,—more than thirty-eight years ago,—and paper and printing are as fresh as if printed only last week.

H. T. Stanton—"Jack" wasn't a "Major" and a "Poet Laureate" then—was Editor, and W. W. Newell & Co. were the enterprise publishers.

The paper contained advertisements of Messrs. Jerry F. Young, tailor; N. P. Oldham, barber; Jacob G. Bishop, proprietor Lee House; James Wormald, hatter; George Arthur, confectioner; Mrs. A. M. Tureman, proprietress Goddard House; Thomas A. Curran, Maysville Eagle; and Robert McKeen, Maysville Eagle;

—all of whom are now dead. The only other advertisement was for Dr. B. C. clothier, one of whom is living in Cincinnati. H. W. Adair, now in Paris Cadwalader, the Dagen's optician, thought to be in the West, and George Bancroft, the restaurateur, the only one who is left in Maysville.

Among the items in the paper is the following, which will be of peculiar interest to those who never knew the b ause (7) of the state banking system which some people are trying to again impose on the country:

"The ticket vendors receive positive instructions not to take any paper money but Kentucky, and the State Banks of Ohio and Indiana. It will be useless to present any other kind."

TOBACCO STATISTICS.

FACTS AND FIGURES ABOUT KENTUCKY'S CROP.
Matters of Interest to the Growers of the Weed—The Outlook Not So Gloomy as Pessimists Attempt to Make It.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

The time is at hand when the 1895 crop of tobacco will begin to move. Already a few hogheads have been offered upon the "breaks," and the quality and general condition of the leaf have received the usual careful consideration of the manufacturers, buyers and warehousemen. A little inquiry will show that the circumstances that the early frosts cut short the yield by many thousand hogheads. An advance in prices was made as soon as the damage was ascertained, and both planters and manufacturers are anxious to know whether this can be maintained. The statistical position of the leaf supply is consequently of unusual interest.

Whenever there are large yields for a term of years in succession the markets become congested and prices fall to the cost of production or below it. Either the acreage is then voluntarily reduced or some accident of season cuts down the yield to a point at which tobacco again becomes profitable. The droouts of 1854, 1874 and 1887 relieved the markets at periods of the most serious depression, but were followed by increased production, which again put planters out of business. In the autumn of 1887, after the price had gone below the cost at which the weed could be grown, it was found that the crop was cut down half, and the market boomed astonishingly. Fancy prices were realized for everything. The result was that an immense acreage was put out next spring, and in the fall of 1888, when it became known that the yield would be the largest on record, the boom collapsed and lugs were actually unsalable for months. The 1887 Western crop was 133,000 hogheads, and the value of that portion handled by Louis ville alone was put by the late Colonel W. H. Chilton, the foremost authority on leaf tobacco in this section, at $29,000,000. The 1888 crop amounted to 293,000 hogheads; stocks increased everywhere, and the returns to planters were actually less than for the short yield of the season before.

The trade now finds itself confronted with the same conditions that prevailed in 1888. For the year the seasons have been propitious. The harvest of 1894 was not equalled, but the 1894 crop was nearly as large. Here are the figures for the last nine years, so far as the West as concerned:

Year. Hogsheads.

1886.....	257,000
1887.....	135,000
1888.....	293,000
1889.....	242,000
1890.....	293,000
1891.....	293,000
1892.....	233,000
1893.....	256,000
1894.....	270,000

There are but three short crops—those of 1887, 1890 and 1891—and they have been followed by big ones. In no case has the increase been quite as great as that which succeeded the droout of 1874, when but 83,000 hogheads were grown, to be followed the next year by 230,000. There was a moderate production for 1892, but both the next years saw luxuriant fields. Last season, according to the Auditor's report, this state furnished about 300,000 hogheads; and only the early frosts of this fall prevented another overcropping of the barns.

Now as to the stocks on hand. We have not the figures for Rotterdam and Goshen, which carry a large percentage of the production, but the principal European markets—Liverpool, London, Bremen and Antwerp—had in their warehouses on September 1st last 104,331 hogheads, against 93,928 for the corresponding date of 1894. At the same time there were Western stocks aggregating 73,427 hogheads and seaboard amounting to 63,531. This would give 240,279 hogheads for the total reserve supply of American tobacco. How will these compare with the stocks carried in recent years?

Beganing in 1883, there were on December 1st the following stocks in Europe, the seaboard and the Western markets:

RAN TOO FAST.

A Hunting C. and an Engineer Requested to Slacken Speed.

The fastest run made in an Easterly direction on the C. and O. Railroad was made between Huntington and Handley on Friday last, when President Ingalls, Chauncey Depew and Cornelius Vanderbilt passed through.

The train consisted of three coaches, left Huntington at 8:10 p.m., and 11 minutes later was passing through Ona, 14 miles distant.

There the engineer was called down and requested to make slower time.

When the train arrived at Handley, 71 miles distant, not a single stop had been made, and the rate of speed had been 67 miles an hour.

1886.....	225,000
1887.....	366,384
1888.....	242,740
1889.....	272,247
1890.....	211,561
1891.....	170,857
1892.....	168,340
1893.....	190,116
1894.....	210,398
1895 (September 1st).....	240,279

Here we see a steady increase in European markets, and a rapid one in the last year, though still the supplies held in 1897 are not equalled, when leaf tobacco will be several hundred per cent. on some grades, when there came a painful relapse in 1888, when the yield was 17,000 hogheads less. It is certain, however, that December 1st will show a larger gain in all the stocks, which may bring up the aggregate very nearly to what it was in 1887. The number of hogheads held in London and Liverpool this year had increased from 98,547 September 1st, to 102,781 a month later. This was the largest amount held for many years.

It is too early to tell with any exactness the amount of the 1895 crop. The production last year for the West is put at 270,000 hogheads. With a ten to fifteen per cent. reduction by frost, on which the warehousemen who have taken most pains to investigate insist, the yield this year for the West ought to be somewhat between 230,000 and 260,000 hogheads. There are no statistics which give room for more than an intelligent guess. The Eastern crop also have been good, though probably to a similar extent.

Our readers may draw their own conclusions from the facts here presented. Like all other large staple leaf tobacco is affected to some extent by speculation, independent of yield. The manufacturing situation is not at all what could be wished at present on account of the war between the Trust and the big plug concerns. The Trust is running its factories to their utmost capacity, however, and the trouble may be ended any day.

One very comforting reflection is that the Kentucky crop this year is greatly superior to that produced last season. Even without an advantage of the market, it will net the planters much better returns than they got for 1894.

The handsomest line of Trimmed Millinery ever brought to the city is now on display by Mrs. L. V. Davis.

The many friends of Mrs. Stroube, formerly Miss Lizzie Rankins of Augusta, will regret to hear that she is very ill at her home in that city.

The Portsmouth shoe factories turn out 10,000 pairs of shoes daily. It costs $15.00 to make them, one-third of which is paid for labor, amounting to $60,000 a week paid in Portsmouth for shoe labor alone, being more than $2 to each inhabitant of that city.

The funeral of Mrs. Rebecca Graham, who died at Grimestone, Ala., aged 103, was attended by her four widowed daughters, the youngest of whom is 83 years old, fifty grandchildren, one hundred great-grandchildren and eight great-great grandchildren. She was the oldest person in Alabama, and had resided in the same place for eighty-five years.

KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

We are opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, believing that it would involve the country in financial ruin. We believe in a sound currency and in the use of both gold and silver for coinage, provided always that a dollar in one is more precisely valuable as a dollar in the other.

We favor a Tariff so regulated as to protect the interests of all classes of our citizens upon article of consumption, and to successfully manufacture or produce in this country those articles which are of value to the laborer and a home market to the producer; and in connection with this we favor the re-establishment of the doctrine of reciprocity. We believe in a tariff and in the use of a protective Government expense, gradually to eliminate all disabilities, restore public confidence and relegate to the rear the undue exertions now prevailing concerning the currency. In view of the past financial history of this country, and the present devotion to the old state bank system and utilitarian tendencies, we affirm that the Republican party can more safely trust to regulate the financial system than to any other.

We favor a patriotic policy which will protect Americans and American interests in any part of the world at all hazards and will sympathize with struggling Republics rather than ignorant monarchies.

Uncle Sam's Shortage.

The deficit in the National Treasury for the present fiscal year—from July 1st to date—is $19,055,084.43.

The man who buys goods made in Europe in preference to goods made in the United States is a very poor American.

During the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1894, under the McKinley Protective Tariff, we imported 421,558 yards of carpet. During the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1895, under the Democratic Free-trade Tariff, we imported 200,000 yards. What, then, becomes of the Democratic contention that free wool would enable the American manufacturer to make all the carpets needed in this country?

During the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1894, under the McKinley Protective Tariff, we sold to foreign countries $250,000 worth of American-made carpets. During the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1895, under the Democratic Free-trade Tariff, we sold to foreign countries only $161,000 worth of American-made carpets. Does this look like we were "capturing the markets of the world" under the Free-trade policy?

The Plate Glass Trust has advanced prices an average of 4 per cent. on all sizes, says a news item. Tut! tut! tut! Thought there wasn't to be any "trust" when we got Free-trade. At least that's what the Democratic yappers told us in 1892.

CAMPAGN ORATORS are missing a mighty fine point by not locating the responsibility for the present great scarcity of water. —Danville Advocate.

EASY AS ROLLIN' off a log, neighbor. All the leading Democrats of the state are on the stump, and have been driven to water-drinking through the "roasts" administered to AL BERRY.

In spite of the fact that the duties on window glass have been reduced nearly one-half by the provisions of the new Tariff, the manufacturers have formed a trust. The trust has already advanced prices nearly 15 per cent. And another advance of 5 per cent. is likely to follow. What becomes of the argument that a Protective Tariff fosters trusts, and that a revision of duties according to Democratic ideas would be a death blow to such combinations?

FRENCH CRISIS.

The Ministry Overthrown By An Adverse Vote

On M. Rounonet's Interpolation on the Chamber of Deputies.

Like the Preceding Ministry the Ribot Cabinet has been overthrown by an adverse vote on M. Rounonet's interpolation on the chamber of deputies, condemning the government's course in respect to the Southern railway scandals.

The ministry, which has just gone out of office was overthrown on Jan. 27, 1893, ten days after the election of M. Félix Faure as president of the republic.

Like the preceding ministry of M. Dupuy, the Ribot cabinet has been overthrown by a railway vote. Some time since a magisterial investigation was begun into the connection of certain French senators and deputies with the South of France railway syndicate due to an accusation made in the press by Senator Magnier, a senator from Var, and at that time chief editor of the Evenement, had received 87,500 francs as part of the profits of the syndicate, which had been organized by the late Baron de Roquemaurel, a member of the ministry. Later a report was made by M. Flory, the official accountant in the inquiry, which supplied overwhelming evidence against the members of the syndicate.

The railway in question was a short one, built in its branches in two or three departments in the south of France. Corruption of officers and other illegal practices were resorted to obtain the concession for the road and its branches, and a guarantee of 100 francs on the capital, which was wasted on the increased extension. The budgets of the departments were crippled for years to build and support the railway, which passes through a region incapable of furnishing a traffic of any consequence.

The result of the inquiry was the arrest of several politicians and dishonest contractors. It arose from the charges made by M. Rounonet in the chamber of deputies, Monday, that there was a disposition on the part of the government to shield those concerned in the scandal from the punishment of Senator Magnier. However this may be, the fact remains that M. Magnier was indicted, but before he could be brought to trial he disappeared. Subsequently he returned to Paris and surrendered himself to the authorities. He was tried, convicted and sentenced to one year's imprisonment and to pay a fine of one hundred francs.

The excitement caused by the overthrow of the government was all the more intense as the defeat of the cabinet was practically spontaneous and totally unexpected. The opinion expressed by the Gaulois that it was possible that the ministry would be driven out of office by M. Rounonet's interpolation on the Mongenais and Delin bill of Penn avenue Monday, and Tae Henderson tot was the "mother" and Delin was the guest of honor. A sister of each child came along and were invited to stay. The party was a success and remained with some friends invited to touch her. To show she was not afraid, Marian swallowed some of the pretended feast. She died Monday night and her body, which was expected to expire before morning, was found in the box was brimstone. IMMENSE DAMAGE.
The Prairie Fires in the Kankakee Marsh Devastating Everything in Its Path—Loss of Life.

COWICHAN PARK, B.C., Oct. 29.—Never before has such a disaster as this ever occurred in Canada. The flames now fast spreading over the northern portion. For three days a terrible prairie fire has been burning in the great Kankakee marsh which composed nearly the southern half of Lake and Porter counties. Trees, brush, human beings are being swept down before the furious onslaughts of the fierce demon. Everything is as dry as tinder and the wind has been blowing a gales, breaking trees, tearing corral posts to pieces and scattering the atoms far and wide.

This was the condition of things when the fire started at the head of Kankakee river two days ago. It was reported Monday night that the flames were approaching the town of Nine Mile (six east) of here. Seven lives had already been lost and word reached here Monday evening that a family of three had been burned to death a few miles west of Kouts. The smoke from the flames which the inhabitants had turned out in mass in an endeavor to check the fire. Various estimates ranging from $65,000 to $100,000 have been placed and unless rainfall, there will be still greater.

The smoke from the flames in Lake and the western portion of Porter county threatens the destruction of the villages of La Crosse, Wilder and Hanna. Residents of the Kankakee marsh region are thoroughly alarmed.

MT. OLYMPUS VOLCANO.

An Exploring Party Report a Fierce Subterranean Congregation in Fugitives. The American Exploring party, led by Mt. Olympus volcano exploring party has returned from a five day trip into the heart of that range. It is reported that while the outburst is not a regular volcano, there is good ground for supposing it to be a former subterranean configuration in the progress.

The examination made by the party was necessarily circumstantial, owing to the intense heat and stifling smoke, but from what could be discovered the party concluded that the source of smoke was a vent, which was plainly visible from here resulted from the consumption of a huge vein of lignite coal, the outcroppings of which have often been reported. The deep gorges had in them a large amount of impure smoke, and among these the fire in some way started and from this intense heat the lignite vein was ignited. Even now puffs of smoke, now marked as at first, continue to issue from the craters in the mountains, confirming the first report that explosions of coal gas occasioned the first columns of smoke and fire.

In brief, the interior of the mountain is one mighty mass from which emanates a terrific heat, unpredictable in its intensity. The temperature, which in years past could not be approached and remained with some difficulty, has melted away, and the rivulets pouring from the sea of smoke in the gorges files the air with an imperceptible steam.

FOR FREE ROAD.

Editor of Public Ledger. There is one feature in free roads you have not touched yet which is a very important one. Can you or any one estimate the drainage on the soil of Mason County? Think of the thousands of tons of water that are washed off the land every year that are hauled in carts over the roads of Mason County, then estimate, if you can, the amount of potash, starch, niter, ammonia and many other ingredients necessary to promote the growth of our crops. Then think of the hills of Mason County which are a plain and indisputable fact that land must be paid back in proportion to the amount taken off if the fertility is kept up. Can we pay for this? I am sure we can't. Then comes the question of the cost of removing the muck from this vast amount of material over the bank and making lots of it! Every body will say "No" we can't afford to do it. Then we have the cost of the horses and teams of to drag muck, haul the soil that produced it, and landowners need not know about taxes. Their tenants can and will haul it back, at least a part of it. This soil robbery is going on to the tune of $100,000 per month. We can pay $1 per ton for manure, and haul it two miles, we can not haul it that far when it is given to us?

It is absolutely reliable, easily adjusted and does not become misplaced. It can be worn without discomfort or inconvenience without

MINER'S OLD STAND.

DISASTROUS DROUGHT.

The Five Streams Getting Dryer,
With Dredging Weather On Us.

The few streams now running in Kentucky are getting drier every day, and the Ohio is nothing but a stagnant creek.
The Ohio is so low at Uniontown that the old coal vein under the river bed is being worked and thousands of bushels are being taken out daily. At Milton the cit-zens are also digging coal out of the river.
There is no mine there, but some of the bars, where coal fleets have gone to pieces, are rich in black diamonds and they are being plowed up with regular field plows.

The Licking is almost dry from the bottom to the top.

Lumber buyers who have lately had business up the lines of the Eastern Kentucky and Lexington railroads state that the mills of all that country are shut down now because of either lack of logs or water, says The Ashland News.

Along the rivers where there is water the log supply is exhausted, and along the roads where the timber is hauled overland the water has given out entirely. There are probably two score of sawmills of a capacity of five from five to ten thousand feet idle in that country now, through reason of the water supply alone.

The Cincinnati Southern is having a hard time getting water for its engines.

The Duarville Advertiser says:

Welsh and Woolfolk of the Water Committee visited Lexington Wednesday at the request of Superintendent Murphy of the Cincinnati Southern Railway to confer with him in regard to supplying his road with water at this place. Negotiations are now in progress, and it is hoped that they will culminate in the road becoming a patron of the water works. Water is very scarce along the line of the road.
The supply at Burgoon is about exhausted, there is none at Williamstown and at the station between Junction City and Somerset the water has almost given out.
At Georgetown the water-works have been shut down, the spring which was believed to be inexhaustible having failed. Nicholaville is in a similar prediction, the pool there being dry as a bone.

Considerable suffering is reported from Henry and Pendleton counties. The only town which seems to have plenty of water is Corbin, where a three months supply is stored behind the dam.

The spectacle of clouds of dust rolling up from the river bed, just the same as from a dusty road, may be witnessed these days whenever a stiff breeze is blowing on the river, says The Aspinwall News.

The dust comes from the sandy river bottom along the Kentucky side, opposite West Irondequoit, which has been dried up.

The present drought is causing much distress among the farmers in Bracken County. Nearly all the water used has to be hauled from the river. The market price in Powersville of a barrel of water is $2.50. One farmer says the stock on his farm has worn a path around the field trying to get out to water twice.

In this city there's hardly a cistern that has any water in it at all. In the Fifth Ward the citizens who are not patrons of the Water-works have to carry water from W. B. Mathews & Co.'s Sawmill and Collins & Rudy Lumber Co.'s Mill, while the pump at the streetcar barn furnishes any number of the Sixth Ward residents

The condition in the county is a great deal worse than in the city, as the Water works are here, but out in the country the people have to either have the water hauled from this city or haul it themselves from the nearest point of the Ohio river.
Stock is driven miles for water.

With no rain in sight and a freeze up staring us in the face, the situation is anything but pleasing just at present.

The shortage of Postmaster H. C.
Ashton at Flemingsburg is said to be about $855. A petition is in circulation
